Commerce, upon his arrival in this city today to pay tribute to Indiana Methodist Bishop Richard C. Raines at Gobin Memorial Church.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was a distinguished visitor in Greencastle this morning and paid tribute to Indiana Methodist Bishop Richard C. Raines in a ceremony held in Gobin Memorial Methodist Church on the DePauw University campus.

Bishop Raines was pastor of the Hennepin Avenue Methodist Church in Minneapolis, Minn., from 1930-1948, and the Vice President was a lay member and also mayor of that city during this period.

The 68-year-old Raines, a bishop since 1948, is scheduled to retire next July.

Mr. Humphrey's tribute to Bishop Raines follows:

"We meet today to honor a servant of God for a life well spent in the service of his church and of his fellow men.

Indeed, if his prayer is that of John Wesley: 'O Lord, let us not live to be useless' — and I suspect it is — it has been abundantly answered.

Inspired pastor, great-hearted shepherd of souls, gifted administrator, recognized leader of his church at home and abroad — Bishop Raines has been all of these.

As a persistent practitioner of the art of speaking, I want to pay a particular and personal tribute to his gifts as a preacher.

He preaches with eloquence and passion. What he says goes straight to the heart of the matter — and to the hearts of the men and women privileged to hear him.

Moreover, he always has something to say — and the best sermon is always preached by the minister who has a sermon to preach, not by the man who has to preach a sermon.

What he preaches, he is. He is a splendid example of the truth of the old saying: 'He preaches well who lives well.'

In the service of the Lord, Bishop Raines has traveled widely throughout the world — seven times to Asia, alone.

As a delegate to the world council of churches, he has played an active part in that great and promising effort to bring the religious forces of the world together.

As Vice Chairman of the Commission on Religion and Race of the National Council of Churches, he has been in the forefront of the Churches' confrontation with our gravest and most urgent challenge as a nation — the assurance of equal rights and opportunities to all Americans.

And what a mighty difference the churches' participation in this struggle has made! When history is written, I believe their role will be put down as crucial and decisive.

In paying tribute to Bishop Raines, I should like also to pay tribute to the church he has served all his life.

Founded in 18th Century England, it took firm roots almost immediately in our New World. Its doctrines of free grace and individual responsibility commended it to our pioneer and democratic society. Its circuit riders kept pace with the movement of our people westward into the wilderness, preaching the gospel as they went.

Moreover, they preached to everyone who would hear the message — whatever their social or economic status or their race.

It has always been a faith to be practiced in everyday life as well as professed in church on Sunday — as set forth in John Wesley's well known words:

"Do all the good you can
By all the means you can
In all the ways you can
In all the places you can
At all the times you can
To all the people you can
As long as ever you can."

We rightly judge religious movements by the men they make as well as the men who make them.

By these standards, Methodism stands tall. From our first beginnings as a nation, men and women of the Methodist faith have had a great part in building this country and making it what it is.

How many men and women have found, in the Sunday School and the Epworth League, the solid foundation on which to build lives of service to their country and their fellow men!

I know there are some self-styled sophisticates nowadays who say that the pieties of our pioneer past are no longer relevant to the vastly changed circumstances of today's America.

They say that these pieties belong to a vanished past — like the horse and buggy, the crinoline and the cigar store Indian.

I must emphatically disagree. The programs may have changed, but the principles we must apply in solving them have not.

Science has devised all kinds of synthetics — but it has developed no substitute for integrity, for conscience, for love of one's fellow men and dedication to their service.

Time was when a Daniel Boone, feeling crowded because he could see the smoke from another cabin, could pull up stakes and move further out into the virgin wilderness.

But the fact that most of us live willy nilly as close neighbors in crowded metropolitan areas makes it all the more important that we live together as good neighbors.

Neighborliness — that good old Methodist virtue — is more necessary than ever today.

To the biblical challenge: "Am I my brother's keeper?" we must answer with a resounding "Yea!"

And we must act on the principle that the ties and obligations of brotherhood transcend all bounds of race, color, ethnic origin or creed. Indeed, they embrace the whole family of man.

In this day and age, we are more than ever — as St. Paul told the Ephesians at the dawn of the Christian era — "Members one of another."

There is a story that, when Adam and Eve were expelled from Eden, he turned to her apologetically and said: "Well, my dear, we are living in an age of transition."

"So have all their descendants. John and Charles Wesley lived in an age of transition in England. All of American History is, in a very real sense, an age of transition.

What counts is not whether we are on the move, but where we are going. And, in these troubled times, it is all the more vital that we steer our course by the fixed star of faith.

Bishop Raines has been one of those who throughout his life has ever pointed the way to a brighter and better tomorrow for America and for the world.

I know that he will never slacken in the effort — that he will never really retire. (Indeed, I understand that he has taken up water skiing.)

So, it is not so much the closing of one chapter in Bishop Raines' career that we commemorate today, but the opening of a new one.

Being here at this School of Prophets inspires me to prophesy myself. And I predict that Bishop Raines will continue to give great service to his church and his country for all his remaining years on this earth, and may they be many and full!"

Raines, a former athlete, was born in Independence, Iowa, and earned degrees from Cornell College and Boston University in addition to receiving six honorary degrees. He served churches in Newton and Scituate, Mass., between 1923-1927, and at Providence, R.I., before assignment to the Minneapolis church attended by Humphrey.

All three sons of Bishop and Mrs. Raines also are ministers. They are Robert, Germantown, Pa., Richard, Berkeley, Calif., and John, Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa. Their only daughter, Mrs. Robert K. Allen, lives in Indianapolis and is the wife of a physician.

Although Raines' retirement is still 10 months away, the 26th annual School of the Prophets at DePauw marks the only time all Methodist ministers of Indiana will be together between now and July 1, 1968.

The school—a refresher course for the ministers—opened Monday and will end today. Not only Methodist church leaders, such as E. Stanley Jones but those of other faiths have taken part in the week-long school.

Following his appearance here, Mr. Humphrey returned to Indianapolis where he addressed a luncheon session of some 500 Indiana leaders including politicians and representatives of professions, business, labor, education and religion.

Additional pictures of Mr. Humphrey's visit here will appear in Saturday's Banner.

U.S. cancels ice breakers' Arctic Ocean voyage

WASHINGTON UPI — The United States, accusing the Russians of blocking scientific endeavor, announced Thursday that two American icebreakers have given up about a third of the way on their attempt to circumnavigate the Arctic Ocean.

The State Department said the Soviet Union frustrated the effort by refusing to let the U.S. Coast Guard vessels Eastwind and Edisto, encountering massive ice floes on their planned route, take an easier passage just south of the Soviet island of Severnaya Zemlya.

The State Department said the Soviet action had served to block "a useful scientific endeavor and thus to deprive the international community of research data of considerable significance."

The Coast Guard said the Edisto will return to Thule, Greenland, where the scheduled 8,000-mile voyage began about Aug. 8, and return to its home port of Boston in late October after making ice observations.

The Eastwind, commanded by Capt. William K. Benkert, will remain in the Kara and Barents seas for about a month for oceanographic studies.

The Coast Guard quoted Capt. William K. Earto, commander of the Edisto, as saying the vessels encountered some of the most difficult ice conditions in recent history.

"Often the ships had to back up, race forward and ram up onto the ice to break through the 8-to-12-foot solid ridges that crisscross the polar floes," a Coast Guard statement said.

State Department spokesman Carl Bartsch said the dispute with the Russians arose when the vessels asked permission to proceed through a strait, 22 nautical miles wide, between the Severnaya Zemlya islands and the Taymyr Peninsula, northernmost extension of Siberia.

The Coast Guard abandoned the attempt at the first-ever feat on Monday when the Soviets refused permission for the route change. The voyage was to have ended at the Lancaster Sound exit into Baffin Bay, off northern Canada.

The new route would have taken the ships along the Soviet mainland coast along the Chelyuskin Peninsula.

Law in Milwaukee is defied by priest

MILWAUKEE, Wis. UPI — A firebrand white priest vowed today to hold another open housing rally and "possibly" a march, despite an aborted march Thursday night which sparked arson, rock throwing and mass arrests.

It was the fifth straight night of racial strife on Milwaukee's north side.

"We'll never stop," said the Rev. James E. Groppi after he was released on $1,000 bond on charges of resisting arrest, battery of a policeman, profanity, disorderly conduct and violation of the mayor's proclamation against nighttime marches.

The 36-year-old priest, who was ordered to appear in court today, said another church rally would be held again tonight. Asked if another march would follow, he answered, "Possibly . . . possibly."

The rally was planned for 6 p.m. EDT. Father Groppi, alderman (Mrs.) Vel Phillips and 136 others were arrested during the Thursday night march, most for violating the edict of Mayor Henry Maier who banned demonstrations, marches and picketing between 4 p.m. and 9 a.m. daily.

Twice an officer read aloud the emergency proclamation. But Groppi and his followers, who had progressed only four blocks on their way to city hall, would not break stride. The order to start making arrests was given and Groppi was the first to be seized. He was carried off bodily to a police van.

During the fracas, at the intersection of 10th Street and North Avenue in the area where racial rioting erupted early in August, a squad car was set afire. More arrests followed when police tried to clear the area.

County Judge Christ T. Seraphim, sitting as magistrate, set bail for Groppi and told him he had persisted in "violating the law day after day, week after week. The public has a right to be protected from a repeater."

Recent stock speculation causes concern

WASHINGTON UPI — Recent stock speculation is a cause of "considerable concern" to the Securities and Exchange Commission, chairman Manuel F. Cohen said Thursday.

He said "a number of investigations" are in progress.

Cohen made the statements in reply to a key lawmaker's inquiry on factors involved in recent record turnover in major security markets, and on what steps SEC is taking to avert dangerous speculative activity.

"Recent activity in both the Exchange and the over-the-counter markets is of considerable concern to the commission," Cohen told chairman Harley O.

Soviets try 3 SMOG members

MOSCOW UPI — In secret the Soviets today tried three members of a Russian artistic underground organization named "SMOG."

A second trio of writers including a beat poet who already has served a jail term awaited trial in Moscow's yellow brick city courthouse.

Informed sources said the six have been charged with holding an unlawful demonstration and illegally publishing a magazine named "Phoenix."

Police arrested all six in January when they demonstrated in downtown Moscow to protest the conviction of authors Andrei Sinyavsky and Yuri Daniel. The six belonged to the organization called "SMOG"—an acronym for the Russian words meaning "bravery, youth, sincerity and genius." "SMOG" claims to aim at "resurrecting Russian art."

The trial of Vadim Delone, Vladimir Bucovsky and Yevgeny Kushey began Wednesday. Six volunteer policemen blocked the courthouse corridor leading to the trial room. They refused to let Westerners pass.

Guards forced a photographer to expose film he had used outside the courthouse. Foreigners usually are given the freedom to roam the building at will.

Details of the trial were not available.

Cong presses campaign to keep voters from polls

By Daniel Southerland

SAIGON UPI—American and South Vietnamese troops today took up defensive positions around South Vietnam's principal 8,808 polling places to discourage 11th-hour Communist terrorist action against Sunday's national election.

The campaign for president, vice president and 60 senate seats entered its last phase under the eyes of observers from 28 countries, including 22 prominent Americans hand-picked by President Johnson to watch for cheating or other irregularities.

The Viet Cong pressed their campaign to disrupt and discredit the election and keep Vietnamese away from the polls with mortar attacks and a series of kidnappings in the northern provinces.

The American observers crisscrossed the countryside in small groups for a quick course in politics Vietnamese-style.

Visiting Bien Hoa, 15 miles northwest of Saigon, Walter Hjella, North Dakota highways commissioner, expressed satisfaction with the election machinery.

"I don't see how they could rig this election in any manner, shape or form," he said. "I've watched quite a few elections and they've taken all the precautionary measures possible in this one. The mechanics are impressive."

Court asked to deny writ

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Special Judge Robert Webb of Hamilton Circuit Court has asked the Indiana Supreme Court to deny a writ sought by a newspaper seeking a change of judge in a contempt of court case.

Webb filed the reply to the earlier petition of James Neal and the Noblesville Ledger to get a hearing on an indirect contempt charge which has been hanging over them since July 19, 1965. The citation first was issued by the regular circuit court judge, Edward New, Jr., in connection with a column comment about a traffic crackdown.

Webb is the third judge in the case, which has never yet come to trial. He alleged that "there is no further right to a change of venue from the judge beyond that granted by the legislature. The granting of any further change of venue would be discretionary with the special judge. The special judge shall remain unchallenged."

School students get a holiday

CLEARWATER, Fla. UPI — Pinellas County school children took a holiday Thursday while their 3,100 teachers met with school officials to work out differences that led to mass teacher resignations.

The dispute over teacher pay and educational policy is statewide, but the resignations here were the first to close Florida classrooms to students. Hundreds of other teachers in other cities have threatened to resign later if the impasse is not broken.

About 1,900 members of the Pinellas County Classroom Teachers Association resigned Wednesday demanding that the state legislature be called into special session to deal with educational problems.

School officials then declared today an "in-service" day—a regular work day for teachers allowing those who did not resign to report for work and be paid. Children were given the day off.

Pinellas county's legislative delegation flew from the state capital at Tallahassee for the meeting between teachers and school officials.

The resignations were the latest in a series of actions by Florida's teachers who have charged that Republican Gov. Claude Kirk is strangling education. The Florida Education Association FEA and National Education Association (NEA) imposed sanctions two months ago for what they called the state's inadequate financial support of schools.

The teacher associations have begun a national campaign to discourage tourists, industries and teachers from coming to Florida.

Bayt is new PSC chairman

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Philip L. Bayt, former Indianapolis mayor, will take over Sept. 15 as chairman of the Indiana Public Service Commission.

Governor Branigin confirmed Thursday that he meant Bayt to move up to the chairmanship after the departure of Merton Stanley of Kokomo, the present chairman.

Branigin had notified Stanley, in a letter written last Friday, that he was replacing him with Richard P. Stein, New Albany, who will step down Sept. 15 as U.S. district attorney for Southern Indiana.

The letter did not make clear whether Stein would succeed Stanley as chairman as well as a commission member but it was believed that Bayt would become chairman.

On his return to the Statehouse Thursday following a trip to the Midwest Governors' Conference in Missouri, Branigin confirmed the report that Bayt would become chairman.

Bayt is also a former judge and Marion County prosecutor.

Dear Heloise:

Since washing grubby little fingerprints off nicely painted woodwork is always such a chore, I think I have found a way to avoid this, and help other mothers, too.

I tear off a piece of the plastic wrap we so often use in kitchen jobs, and put it over the woodwork on each side of the open doorway into the family room along about where little fingers so often grab. I smooth it down with my fingers and it adheres beautifully.

The clear plastic makes this protection almost invisible, and no more hand prints and repainting of too often washed woodwork to cope with.

So you see . . . walls can be beautiful.

All it takes is a swipe with a damp rag in case a little tyke should come in with mud on his hands.

But the best part of it is fingerprints do not show.

Connie Schreiber

Now that's food for thought, isn't it mothers?

A strip of this plastic wrap could also be put on the door-facing at the front and back door entrances where little tykes often leave their marks. Be sure and keep big pieces of plastic out of the reach of children.

I did find that the clinging-type plastic adheres beautifully to woodwork, doors and around light switches. And just try a tiny piece on the refrigerator door where tiny hands slam it. Great.

After you have placed the plastic wrap on your particular piece of wood, take a sponge and smooth it out and all the air bubbles will come out from under it.

Dear Heloise:

A tip of my hat to the Heloise fan who saves jam jars, using up the last hard-to-get jam by filling it with milk, stirring and serving to children as flavored milk . . .

As a bachelor cook, I habitually save all sweet pickle jars after eating the pickles.

There's always a third of a jar of sweet vinegar, mingled with sugar, spices, condiments and seeds, prepared by experts. This valuable juice I never throw out.

It makes excellent dressing for fresh cucumbers with onions. Also it serves as an improved substitute for the vinegar that is normally used in salad recipes, tossed salads, etc.

Bill Beaumont
Try the juices from sour or Kosher dills on the fresh cucumbers and onion, too . . . Umm, umm, good!

And, have you tried putting cauliflower florets or carrot sticks in the pickle juices? Just let 'em be for a week or so and you'll have delicious, pickled vegetables.

Thanks loads, Bill—some gal is missing a good bet by letting you remain a bachelor!

Dear Heloise:

One of the most fantastic hints you have ever printed was to put two sheets of waxed paper in the bottom of your freezer compartment of the refrigerator after defrosting.

Not only do things not stick, but when defrosting time comes, the ice lets loose like the chunk that sunk the Titanic steamer.

No dusting powder files anywhere except in the tub. I leave it in the tub and the next bath that is taken has scented water!

3 more flee Indiana prison

MICHIGAN CITY UPI — Three Indiana State Prison inmates escaped from an honor farm Thursday night in the latest break from the institution.

Authorities said the trio jumped a fence behind a recreation area at the farm and fled on foot.

They were identified as Walter William Wallace, 28, sentenced from Elkhart County in 1960 to 1-5 years for assault and battery with intent to gratify sexual desire; James Barnett, 49, sentenced from Clay County in 1966 to 1-5 years for aggravated assault and battery; and Charles Curtis Sallee, 29, sentenced from Vanderburgh County in 1966 to 2-5 years for second-degree burglary.

The escape came only a few hours after Anthony S. Kuharich, state corrections commissioner, announced that three officials had been suspended and a fourth reprimanded in connection with a triple escape Aug. 3. The prisoners involved in that escape were captured a week later at Lincoln, Neb., following a gun battle in which a policeman was killed.

Tiger Cubs open football season tonight at 8:00

Greencastle's Tiger Cubs, winners of the Western Indiana Conference football championship last year, open their 1967 gridiron season at 8 o'clock tonight against visiting Dugger.

The Cubs had an 8-2 record in 1966, losing only to Plainfield and Crawfordsville. The locals defeated Mooresville, Linton, Terre Haute Germeyer, Terre Haute Garfield, West Vigo, Cascade, Brazil and Clinton.

In commenting on this evening's encounter, Coach Bob Bergman said the Greencastle squad has had many little injuries but that most of his players were ready to go. As he stated, "Many have missed valuable practice sessions but are healthy now."

Bergman said Dan Murphy will not see action as he has a badly sprained ankle.

Bowling news

The Greencastle Women's Bowling Association opened the 1967-1968 season Monday afternoon, August 28th at Varsity Lanes with the Coca Cola League, the first league to start bowling. This league has ten teams with 3 members per team. Monday evening at 6 p.m. the Mallory ladies bowled with 6 teams and five members to a team. Tuesday morning IBM Ladies began bowling with 8 teams of four members. Tuesday night IBM league has 6 teams with 5 members to a team. Friday evening First Citizens Bank league has 8 teams with 5 members to a team. The teams on these leagues as well as the leagues are all sponsored by the local merchants of Greencastle and surrounding towns. This is a total of about 265 women bowlers.

As the standings of the first round of bowling are coming in, it looks like the girls are back in good form, as already some 500 series have come in.

Varsity Lanes is buzzing with activity and enthusiasm now that the new season has opened. The welcome mat is always out for new bowlers or for an evening of relaxation and fun for the whole family.

Sunday evenings feature the mixed leagues, but there is usually a lane or two open.

Indians bid for second spot

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — The Indianapolis Indians, bidding to take over second place in the Pacific Coast League eastern division, will try to stretch their current winning streak to nine games tonight in a doubleheader with Oklahoma City.

The Indians downed Oklahoma City 4-1 Thursday night to move within a half-game of the second place 89ers. Monte Montegudo effectively scattered eight Oklahoma City hits as he became the fifth consecutive Tribe pitcher to go the distance.

Oklahoma City pitcher Chris Zachary gave up only four hits but 39ers errors hurt him.

The largest share of the $4.1 million sprinkled over golf's tournament trail in 1966, went to Billy Casper. The 35-year-old Californian won $121,044.92.

Three days of harness racing at Indiana Fair

INDIANAPOLIS UPI—Three more events will be run today, the richest the $41,000 Horseman Futurity for 2-year-old trotters.

More than $210,000 in prize money is at stake Monday, the largest one-day purse in the history of the United States Trotting Association.

Indiana Trotting and Pacing Horse Association stakes usher in today's program. In the trot for 2-year-olds, Be Bold, owned by Monroe Circuit Judge Nat Hill, Bloomington, is the leader with seven heat victories this summer.

The 2-year-old pace includes two unbeaten — Hal Painter and Royal Hill. Hal Painter is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ross Fleischauer of Mulberry, Royal Hill by Dr. Harry Sout of Frankfort.

Monday's program also includes the $37,000 Horseman Futurity for 3-year-old trotters, for which 7 of the 12 starters in Wednesday's Hambletonian are eligible, including winner Speedy Streak.

Also on the program is the $30,000 Horseman Futurity for 3-year-old pacers, final major test for the Little Brown Jug at Delaware, Ohio, Sept. 21.

Virtually all of Coach Tom Mont's forces will be ready for the workout after having had a light morning session of picture taking with the photographer.

Only faces missing for the opening whistle will be three men — all of them fullbacks. Mont reported Wednesday night to Greencastle Quarterbackers that Tim Feemster, Tony Whiteley and Bill Hofton all have come up with assorted injuries.

Feemster, who kicked the winning field goal against Wash and is nearing an ICC extra point record, may be the worst hurt. He has a knee injury that may keep him out of action for four weeks.

The Tigers open their campaign Sept. 16 at Wheaton College.

Pirate hurler ends career

PITTSBURGH UPI—Vernon Law, whose major league pitching career spanned 17 years with the Pittsburgh Pirates, has decided to retire.

The 37-year-old right-hander, who helped pitch his team to its first pennant in 33 years in 1960 and first world championship in 35 years, ended his career Thursday because of a groin injury.

"I dreaded this day but knew it had to come sometime," Law said. "It's a decision every athlete must make and I'm glad I can make it myself rather than have others make it for me."

An ordained elder of the Mormon Church, Law posted a 20-9 record to win the Cy Young award in 1960. He won two of the Pirates four victories over the New York Yankees in the series that year.

Law suffered a groin injury while pitching against the New York Mets on Aug. 20, his last appearance on the mound.

He pitched in 25 games this season and struggled to a 2-6 record with an earned run average of 4.17. His lifetime mark was 162-147.

NEW POSITION

NEW YORK UPI — Whitey Ford, the veteran New York Yankee southpaw forced to retire as a player earlier this season because of a recurring shoulder injury, will continue to wear a Yankee uniform as the club's first base coach.

General Manager Lee MacPhail announced Thursday that Ford, a 17-year veteran with the Yanks, will take over the duties handled by Loren Babe next season. Babe has been assigned "special scouting duties" for 1968.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

TWO GRUFF old greats of yesteryear who knew and admired each other were Somerset Maugham and Spencer Tracy. Maugham came to a Hollywood studio to visit Tracy one day when the latter was starring in a remake of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde — a project, incidentally, that he loathed from the start. He had abandoned his grotesque "Mr. Hyde" disguise and was stylishly robed as the elegant Dr. Jekyll when Maugham arrived on the set. "Ah, both Jekyll and Hyde," nodded Maugham solemnly, "and which one are you now?"

John Maynard Keynes, famous English economist, took a dim view of analysts who never quite could make up their minds about the immediate state of the nation's business health, but always took refuge in "We are optimistic over the long term." Keynes was fond of reminding these pussy-footers, "Over the long term, too, we'll all be dead."

QUOTABLE: "Drive too slowly and everybody will pass you. Drive too fast and they may be walking slowly behind you." — Sol Fass. "History sometimes takes a long time to repeat itself. When the miniskirt first appeared upon the scene it was worn by Greek soldiers." — Kelly Fordyce. "Bringing up children is the art of praying that they'll turn out all right when they get older." — Kiplinger.

To rejoin Sox

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Six members of the Indianapolis Indians will join the parent Chicago White Sox after the Pacific Coast League season ends next week.

The Indians announced Thursday night that the six players will report to the White Sox Sept. 6 in Chicago. The PCL season ends Monday.

The players are infielder Rich Morales, pitchers Dennis Higgins, Bruce Howard and Roger Nelson and outfielders Bill Voss and Buddy Bradford.

MARE IN RACE

NEW YORK UPI—Straight Deal, leading candidate for handicap mare honors this year, will run against Buckpasser and Damascus in the $100,000 added Aqueduct Stakes to take place Labor Day at Aqueduct.

Trainer Hirsch Jacobs said Angel Cordero will ride Straight Deal, who will carry 120 pounds in the 1 1/4 mile race.

The newest professional football franchise—the NFL New Orleans team—is nicknamed the Saints.

NICKLAUS AHEAD

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. UPI—The $50,000 won in the Westchester Classic has boosted Jack Nicklaus ahead of Arnold Palmer in official Professional Golf Association earnings for 1968.

The PGA announced that Nicklaus' win pushed his total earnings for this year's tournament tour to $156,748. Palmer has pocketed $148,939 in prize money.

Vince Scully, broadcaster for the Los Angeles Dodgers, played rightfield for Fordham University during his college days.

Window peeper shot at Muncie

MUNCIE UPI — Kenneth Hoover, 35, Muncie, accused of window peeping, was shot fatally Wednesday night by the occupant of a home.

Hoover, who moved here six months ago from Battleground, was found later in a roadside ditch by a woman returning home from the grocery store. Police had searched the neighborhood after being summoned but could find no trace of him.

Police quoted James Underwood, who said he fired warning shots at a fleeing window peeper, after the man jumped from Underwood's roof.

Authorities said Hoover, who bled to death from a bullet wound, attended a stag party earlier in the evening. Hoover lived about two blocks from the Underwood home.

He was spotted in the ditch by Mrs. Jack Hall as she returned home in her car from the grocery.

It was the second fatal shooting of a suspected window peeper in a week here.

On Tuesday of last week, James Bass Jr., 45, was shot to death at the home of Tom Stewart, a city park policeman who said he spotted Bass window peeping when he returned home from work. That shooting is still being investigated, authorities said.

Legion ends 49th convention

BOSTON UPI — The American Legion ended its convention Thursday after passing resolutions calling for the U.S. to expand the Vietnam War into neighboring Cambodia and Laos and an end to bombing restrictions in North Vietnam.

The Legion also passed resolutions calling for a congressional investigation of Stokely Carmichael and condemning draft dodgers and the protectors of those who desecrate the American flag.

The 3,000 delegates to the Legion's 49th convention passed the resolutions Wednesday during which they heard fiery battle speeches from Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., and Gen. Wallace M. Greene Jr., the Marine Corps commandant.

In a 10-point resolution on Vietnam, the Legion asked the Johnson Administration for "termination by military means of the enemy's use of sanctuary in Cambodia, Laos and through the demilitarized zone" dividing North and South Vietnam.

The resolution also said bombing "limitations should be removed so that the war can be brought to a quick and successful end," and Haiphong harbor should be closed "by whatever military means are considered most feasible and effective."

Dry humor

SEATTLE, Wash. UPI — It hasn't rained for 40 days in this city, often the subject of jokes about heavy precipitation, so the Seattle Post-Intelligencer did something to refresh the citizens' memories.

Steel prices are going up

WASHINGTON UPI — A Johnson administration attempt to block a steel price increase appeared to be losing ground today with word that U. S. Steel, the nation's biggest producer, had hiked the price of steel bars.

U. S. Steel's decision Thursday to increase the price of steel bars a "modest" 1.8 per cent came one day after Republic Steel Corp., the nation's third largest steel producer, announced a 2.7 per cent increase in the price of steel bars.

The move by the two industry giants made it appear highly probable that other steel companies would follow suit and increase prices.

Gardner Ackley, the President's top economic adviser, had responded to Republic's announcement Thursday by sending telegrams to each of the major steel producers urging them to hold the line on prices. He warned that higher steel prices could touch off a new inflationary spiral.

"Very thoughtful attention was given to Mr. Ackley's comments before changing the price of bars," U. S. Steel said in announcing its price increase.

"In view of cost increases, there was no alternative found except to change some of our prices, including the base price on bars which have not been adjusted since 1963 except for minor changes last year," U. S. Steel said.
